The French Society for Developmental Biology (SFBD), in association with the British Society for Developmental Biology (BSDB), organize their “2nd joint meeting on Developmental Biology”.

This meeting will take place from the 3rd to the 6th of September at the Institute of Developmental Biology & Cancer (IBDC-Nice, CNRS) at the University of Nice.

Leading speakers from Great Britain, France and the rest of the world will talk about their most recent research covering a wide range of topics in Developmental Biology. Short communications will be selected from the submitted abstracts and poster sessions are planned.

Do not miss the opportunity to hear about exciting new findings in Developmental Biology and enjoy the city of Nice and luminous French Riviera.

Details on the program, venue and registration will be soon available. Stay tuned and book early, places will be limited!
